CONFLAGRATION AT PITTSBURG

The Exposition Buildings and Contents Totally Consumed

Pittsburg, Oct 3.—4 A M.—About 3 o'clock this morning the exposition building caught fire and in twenty minutes the entire building together with the machinery and floral hall, were in ashes. The fire was discovered in the engine room and rapidly spread. Notwithstanding the early hour a great crowd quickly gathered. At the furthest end of the city a paper could be read quite easily, so brilliant were the flames. At this hour it is impossible to estimate the loss but it is believed it will not fall far short of $2 500 000. The exhibits consist of all varieties of the products of manufacturing and other industries including relics impossible to replace. Among the latter was the locomotive Arabian the first locomotive of the B & O R R which was the first one built in the United States.

THE BUILDINGS COMPLETELY DESTROYED

Pittsburg Oct 3.—The magnificent building of the Pittsburg Exposition Society on the north bank of the Allegheny river, has been totally destroyed. The immense structures, with their almost endless variety of exhibits illustrative of every branch of art, science and mechanical skill which were yesterday visited by thousands of people and since the opening September 6, by hundreds of thousands is now a mass of splintwood and powdered embers and tangled iron. The destruction is complete. Fire was first discovered at 2 o'clock this morning in the boiler room attached to machinery hall at the south end of the building and before the watchman could give an alarm the flames had spread to floral hall machinery hall and the main buildings and in less than ten minutes the buildings were on fire from end to end, and when the fire department arrived on the grounds the flames were beyond control. Nothing could be saved and the firemen turned their attention to saving adjacent property, many residences on South avenue being in flames. By hard work however they succeeded in saving all of these, with no more damage done than burning fences and cornices. Repeated alarms soon aroused almost the entire population of the two cities and it is estimated that not less than 75 000 to 100 000 people witnessed the conflagration. The reflection of the flames illuminated the country for miles around making possible reading of the finest newspaper print.

LOSS ONLY ONE MILLION

Pittsburg Oct 3.—The origin of the fire is unknown. The estimated loss sent this morning was greatly exaggerated. It will probably reach $1 000 000. Secretary Patterson places the value of the buildings destroyed at $160 000, the insurance being $40 000. Exhibitors will sustain a loss of about $800 000. It is probable the fire started in the electric department. The cash value of the articles contained therein did not exceed $10 000 but many cannot be replaced. In the annex was Arabian the first locomotive ever run in the United States which was also destroyed. In the safe was $6000 in cash receipts from yesterday's admissions and Levy's gold cornet. The safe has been taken. The main building was 600 feet long and 160 wide. Machinery hall was 400 feet long and 150 wide. The other buildings were small.

WALL STREET

The Bears have Things their Own Way—Another Fall in Villard Shares

New York Oct 3.—Wall street 11 A M.—Stocks were weaker and slower this morning. In early dealing there was a decline of ¼ to 1¼, the latter Oregon and Transcontinental, and which sold down to 51¼. Subsequently it rallied one-eighth to one half.

New York Oct 3.—Governments weak, 4½s and 4s were ¼ lower on bidding prices. This was a bear day at the stock exchange. In early trading there was an important decline followed by a slight rally. In the afternoon prices fell off perceptibly and the lowest figures for some time for many shares were current. Northern Pacific declined 1¾ per cent to 33¾, preferred to 60⅜. Oregon and Transcontinental, 3⅝ to 49½, the lowest figure ever touched. Northwest 1¾ to 122, preferred 1 to 143. Omaha 1¾ to 36¾, preferred 2⅛ to 97½, and St Paul ¾ to 101. In other active shares the decline ranged from ⅛ to 1½ per cent. Kansas and Texas and Texas Pacific suffering the most. The market generally closed lower. A part of the day the weakness was credited to the manipulation by the bears, indications of which were strong, and to the absence of supporting orders. The break in Omaha was due to reports that the company will issue new stock to cover new mileage.

CAUSES OF THE DECLINE

It is stated that the sharp decline in Oregon and Transcontinental was occasioned by a forced sale of round amounts of stock. The bears also reported that the Gould party had broken their ranks and pointed to the decline in Kansas and Texas and Texas Pacific as evidence.

Rumors of fresh iron failures were freely used by the bears against the share list. The bears also circulated a report that the Pennsylvania Company had decided to resume the practice of paying a commission to ticket agents, which it was claimed was almost equivalent to a notice that rates will not be maintained in the future. There was no lack of other rumors and decline in prices. Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe to-day declares a dividend of $1 50 per share payable November 15. The books close October 16 and reopen October 22.

VILLARD'S GUESTS

The Tribune Censures and the "Post" Defends their Conduct.

New York Oct 3.—[Special]—Eastern papers comment severely on the disclosures being made of the conduct of some of Villard's and Hatch's excursionists. The Tribune says: "If a full history of the recent railway excursion in the northwest should ever be written, some extraordinary incidents would be revealed to an astonished world. Altogether the nobles and aristocrats have regarded the Yellowstone and the Northern Pacific excursions as public scrambles out of which they were to get all they could. The smartest man was he who snatched first at whatever he wanted. As for mutual respect and courtesy which are supposed to prevail between the master of a feast and his company it is hard to find any trace. The worst offenders appear to have been English gentlemen."

THE "POST" TO THE RESCUE

New York Oct 3.—[Special]—The Evening Post editorial denies apparently by authority the Tribune's charges against the Villard excursionists and says: "The thing which we for our part consider most discreditable in the whole affair is the fact that volumes of coarse abuse should have been heaped upon the heads of a score of strangers and guests by American newspapers without a single case that we have heard of of any pains having been taken to get at the facts from any trustworthy source."

The executive committee is composed of the general managers of all the roads interested with T T Malot banker of Indianapolis as president.

LITTLE PROSPECT FOR A CUT IN RATES

Chicago Oct 3.—[Special]—The prospect of a cut in passenger rates between the east and San Francisco is not regarded as liberal. The Herald says: "The fare from Omaha even at $95 is an outrage—1800 miles—at five cents a mile." The Tribune says: "The question is why rates on railroads built at a cost to the people should be twice as much on local travel as charges on roads built by private enterprise," and concludes by saying: "The Northern Pacific in entering the pool will retard the growth of the northwest [illegible] injurious than if a through [illegible] rate were offered to encourage travel."

Proceedings of the General Convention Now Assembled

Rev C L Hutchins of Medford Massachusetts secretary of the convention read the [illegible] Bishop Smith of Kentucky pronouncing absolution. The first lesson from Micah 6th chapter was read by Rev Dr H J Morton of Philadelphia, and second lesson from Ephesians, 4th chapter by Rev Dr Henry C Potter assistant bishop elect of New York. Rev Dr Anstice of Rochester New York read prayers to the litany. The litany was read by Rev Dr W [illegible] of St Victor of Philadelphia and the creed by Rev Dr F A Foggs rector of Christ's church. The collects and commandments were read by Bishop Pinkney of Maryland.

The gospel was read by the bishop of Ontario and the epistle by the bishop of Rochester.

Joseph Clark of Rhode Island delivered the sermon. He treated of the history of the church at the time when the first general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States met in September 1785. The dangers that assailed it and its want of organization, while other churches in the late colonies were fully organized. From the labors of this convention began in a meek and humble spirit he showed how the church had grown until it has become a great power of good throughout the empire, greater than that of the Roman Catholic in the height of their power. The bishop said the Protestant Episcopal church recognized its mission—to draw men to Christ. It required of its communicants what the apostles demand and nothing more. Many were drawn into its communion by the stability and simplicity of its creed who are alarmed by the disintegrating influences discernible in some of the modern churches. Closing his sermon the bishop said: In late years the church has recognized the fact that nothing which pertains to humanity is outside its mission. Of its hospitals, libraries and other practical charities it was not vain boasting to say the church had taken the lead.

Following the sermon came the communion service in which Bishop Lee read the consecration after which he was assisted by the bishop of Rochester.

The secretary appointed tellers to conduct the vote. Rev Dr E E Beardsley of New Haven was nominated for president. Many other nominations were made, several declining.

Senator Edmunds in declining the nomination said he was not calculated for president for this or any other place at this or any other time.

The tellers then announced the result of the ballot. Rev Dr Beardsley received 13[illegible] of the votes on the first ballot being exactly the required number of votes necessary to a choice. Senator Edmunds received ten votes. Dr Beardsley was declared elected and Rev J F Girault of Louisiana and Senator Edmunds conducted the president to the chair.

Dr Beardsley said they had come together at a most interesting period of the history of the church. It was fully a century since an effort was made to restore what had been broken at a time when the church was without a nominal head. The result of this effort was the adoption of a book of common prayer.

Secretary Hutchins was re elected. He received 1[illegible] votes to 103 for Rev L P Tschiffely of Kentucky. The assistant secretaries are Rev Henry Austin A J Miller and E W Worthington.

Rev Dr George Leeds of Maryland and Hon J W Stevenson of Kentucky were appointed a committee to wait on the house of bishops and inform them that the organization of the house of deputies had been completed and that they were ready for business.

A message was read from the house of bishops announcing that they had organized by the election of Dr H C Potter of New York as secretary.

A motion was carried that the seats at present assigned to the different dioceses be the permanent sittings of the house of deputies and the south gallery was ordered reserved for the families of the bishops, deputies and the clergy.

The convention adjourned until to-morrow.

FOREIGN MISSIONS

The Day Consumed in Hearing a Report From a Special Committee

Detroit Mich Oct 3.—The second day's session of the American Board of Foreign Missions opened this morning with a paper by Dr E K Alden home secretary on Our Annual Financial Problem.

This was followed by a report of great length from the special committee appointed last year upon certain troubles connected with the management of certain Protestant mission churches in Turkey. This report [illegible] a lengthy report from a subcommittee consisting of President Chapin of Beloit college and Prof Mead of Andover seminary. The reading of both reports continued with the only interruption at the dinner hour until 4 o'clock this afternoon. The report concludes with the following:

Resolved, In accordance with a suggestion of the visiting deputation that as a substitute for withdrawal of its missionaries from Armenia the board favors the admission of representatives of native churches in Turkey to conferences concerning the practical work of evangelization, education and publication including estimates for necessary expense, reserving however to the mission as the responsible agent of the board final action respecting the distribution of funds drawn from the treasury of the board subject of course to the approval of the prudential committee.

Resolved, That there is a pressing need for large hearted and ever generous co-operation with our native brethren everywhere its particular form and method being shaped by circumstances in each locality but such as may use them for our Christian love and fit them most speedily to assume the support and management of the evangelization of their respective fields.

CRIMINAL

WANTED FOR FORGERY

Boston Oct 3.—The police have ascertained that Charles F Dewey is wanted for forgery. He was known in 1878 in Madison Indiana as Otto R Hal[illegible] a professor of languages which position he occupied in a business college for five years. He was also connected with the firm of [illegible] & Co tool and stationery dealers. Several complaints are made against him for petty forgery. An excellent photograph of Dewey has been found in Boston and 100 copies have been sent to various points of the country. The grand jury has indicted him.

MINING STOCK SWINDLE

Philadelphia Oct 3.—Homer A Herr and Dr Francis C Herr have been arrested on a charge of having committed extensive frauds in Harrisburg by the sale of worthless mining stock. Dr Herr it is said induced patients and friends to take an interest in several mining companies with which he and his brother were connected. He sold a great deal of stock and collected assessments to be devoted to the development of the properties. Homer Herr and a man named D G McLelland are said to have made occasional visits to Harrisburg and increased the interest there in the various companies.

TRIAL OF A SEA CAPTAIN

Philadelphia Oct 3.—In the trial of Captain Barker on a charge of throwing his vessel the Mary D Leach upon a reef and losing her, mate Cresswell O Smith testified that when the vessel left the Providence reef she could not have been seen from the harbor but in going out broken water was seen. Captain Barker gave Smith orders to take the ship at the same time adding: "I want this to be the last trip I shall ever make." Smith [illegible] made answer: "Where are you going to put her?" [illegible] the captain replied: "On the reef." [illegible] The crime entails the death penalty.

THE TURF

FIRST DAY OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Hartford Oct 3.—The annual trotting meeting of the National Association of Trotting Horse Breeders opened at Charter Oak park this afternoon.

The first race was for the national stakes for foals of 1879 by stallions whose get had never beaten 2:40 at 4 years old. Victor Clay by Victor [illegible] Mohawk won. New by Startle 2d. Volmer by Gambetta 3d. Time 31 2:31½ 2:31 2:30¼.

There were but three starters for the national stallion stakes for foals of 1880. The winner was C Backman's bay colt by Messenger Duroc who [illegible] his competitors in the first heat and O Rourke's West [illegible] by [illegible] second. Time [illegible].

In the Ingersol stakes value $[illegible] for foals of 1881 from the Palo Alto stock farm, Hilt la Rose by Electioneer won the heat beating the best three year old record of 2 21 and making a mile with not a skip in 2 20. This too on a heavy track and in the face of a heavy wind.

For the Bequest stakes for mares never having beaten 2 40 [illegible] Smuggler by Smuggler had a walkover in [illegible].

The only nomination for the Stanford stakes was from Marshaland's stock farm—[illegible] by Messenger Duroc. The animal was given the purse and excused from trotting.

GIVEN UP BY DOCTORS

"Is it possible that Mr Godfrey is up and at work and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured and with nothing but Hop Bitters and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die."

"Well-a-day! That's remarkable. I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

HOSMER THE OARSMAN BEATS ALL RECORDS

Army Gossip About the Approaching Transfers—Smuggling Chinese Into the United States—Villard Interviewed

Must the Timber Culture Act Go?

Washington Sept 29.—During the past summer the commissioner of the general land office has had in the states and territories where there are large quantities of unsold lands a large force of special agents engaged in the detection and investigation of fraudulent entries under the pre-emption, homestead and timber culture acts. The reports of these agents reveal such a condition of affairs that in all probability the secretary of the interior in his annual report will recommend the repeal not only of the pre-emption laws but of the timber culture act also. Among the considerations which it is believed will [illegible] in favor of repeal are:

First—That practically the actual settler can get a title to his farm as soon under the homestead act as under the pre-emption law and there is no need of two methods to attain the same object.

Second—That while the three laws remain a settler may take advantage of each and acquire title to 480 acres of the public land by paying cash for 160 acres and taking the other [illegible] under the homestead and timber culture etc. a quantity which it is suggested is greater than the settler should be permitted to obtain on such easy terms in the present condition of affairs.

Third—That both the pre-emption and the timber laws offer a premium to dishonesty as is clearly shown by the number of fraudulent entries which have been detected.

Remarkable Time Made by Hosmer.

Pittsburg Pa Sept 28.—On the Hulton course there was rain this morning but it cleared about noon and the water was smooth. The first event was the fourth trial heat of the professional race. Before the start Elliott and Hosmer had a dispute which created great excitement. Hosmer took the lead but when near the three quarter buoy Elliott crossed the bow of Hosmer's boat and both stopped rowing. Teneyck came in first and Priddy second. The judges decided that the race should be rowed over again as they believed that Elliott intentionally fouled Hosmer and this would have barred Elliott out of all the races. The first heat Ross won, Layberger second, time 21 5[illegible]. The first heat of the four oared race was next called and the Queen City of Buffalo won, Mutuals of Pittsburg second, time 19 42. The second heat the Bostons won, Ericsland second, time 21 53. The second heat Lee won, Plaisted second, time 21 01. The unfinished fourth heat of the professional race was then called to be rowed over owing to the Elliott-Hosmer foul, and it proved the most interesting race of the regatta. Hosmer won by a length, Teneyck second, Priddy third, in the remarkable time of 20 03, beating all records. Teneyck's time was also extraordinary being 20 05.

Smuggling Chinamen Across the Border

New York Sept 30.—A Victoria B C Sun correspondent says: Underground railroad are in full operation and the business of smuggling Chinamen across into the United States is well organized and tolerably prosperous. Chinamen in Victoria have not the least trouble in finding a British subject or a coast Indian who will engage for three, five or ten dollars to set him ashore on the soil of the United States. An intelligent revenue officer at Port Townsend said 1000 is a low estimate for the Chinese smuggled across during the past ten months. The Chinese themselves look upon British Columbia merely as an open gateway to the United States. They do not live here as they do at Portland and Seattle. The colony in Victoria is manifestly unprosperous. In Helena and other Montana cities the Chinese own considerable land. No Chinaman has yet bought an acre of land along the Canadian Pacific.

Kinston N C, Sept 30.—At a camp meeting near this place yesterday a large number of moccasin snakes suddenly appeared among the congregation. Over fifty females fainted and several persons were bitten but not fatally. The men finally killed the snakes but the meeting was completely broken up.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC

Important Announcement by the General Freight Agent—Villard Interviewed

Chicago Sept 30.—[illegible] general freight agent of the Northern Pacific has addressed a telegram to the general freight agents [illegible] St Paul [illegible] to the effect that after October 1 the rate to and from San Francisco by the Northern Pacific will be the same [illegible] Tacoma and Seattle [illegible] Portland [illegible] Northern Pacific [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] Northern Pacific [illegible] coast via [illegible] Omaha or Kansas City [illegible] roads will certainly [illegible] California [illegible] lines in the Northwest [illegible] which will perhaps lead to the formation of a pool to which the Northern Pacific will be a party.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE

The appointment of John C Gault late vice president of the Wabash and formerly general superintendent of the Chicago Milwaukee and St Paul railroad as commissioner in the new California pool gives general satisfaction in railroad circles here. Gault who is now in the city says he will accept the position provided he will not have to move his headquarters to San Francisco, members of his family objecting to that city on account of the climate which does not agree with them. He would prefer to make his headquarters in this city believing this to be the most central point from which to direct the new pool which comprises all the Pacific lines including the Sunset route from New Orleans and the Northern Pacific from St Paul.

New York Sept 29.—A Times editorial on the railroad meeting at San Francisco says: It seems to have been held to confirm the decision of the Central Pacific group of capitalists that the Northern Pacific must confine its operations to the region near its terminus, must not underbid them in dealing with shippers of freight and must not interfere with them in California. The Northern Pacific appears to have accepted the terms without protest. It may be that by entering the pool and accepting the [illegible] rates it has not only disappointed the people by the exhibition of ingratitude but has also retarded the growth of the western terminal region and handicapped its earning power.

MR VILLARD INTERVIEWED

Chicago Sept 30.—Special from New York of the 28th says: Henry Villard interviewed to-day said he was not troubled about the fall in Northern Pacific [illegible] that there were [illegible] for the control of the road and that the fluctuations would make no difference. [illegible] He considers the investment good and believes the road will earn fifteen million next year.

"How do you propose to fund the Northern Pacific floating debt?" a reporter asked.

"Northern Pacific has no floating debt," Mr Villard answered with much earnestness. "It has been paid by the Oregon and Transcontinental Company. We could not issue second mortgage bonds without getting the consent of our stockholders. We do not contemplate anything of that kind. We have discussed it. There is no need of any new issue of bonds because there is no floating debt. The Oregon and Transcontinental Company holds satisfactory obligations of the Northern Pacific railroad, as in business a merchant may borrow money on his note. I consider every obligation of the Northern Pacific [illegible] as good as gold."

ARMY GOSSIP

What is Said of the Approaching Transfers—General Miles' Wishes

Chicago Sept 30.—A special from Washington says: The approaching retirement of General Sherman and the changes in high commands that will follow are now a subject of much speculation among army officers. Who will succeed General Sheridan in command of the division of the Missouri is a more important question. General Pope would like this command if he could have headquarters at Fort Leavenworth but he has already been given to understand that this cannot be arranged. [illegible] ago it is said he will decline the command and if he [illegible] General Schofield will accept if [illegible] but he will prefer a transfer to St Louis and will make strong efforts to have the change accomplished. His friends there claim to have knowledge of his having been promised the command. Nothing has been officially decided upon but the impression is that General Schofield will [illegible] the prize. [illegible] when Sheridan comes here in the fall.

GENERAL MILES' WISHES

General Miles is now east on leave of absence ostensibly for the purpose of settling up a case in which he is concerned and General [illegible] from Texas [illegible] that they will be on hand when General Sheridan succeeds to the general command. [illegible] General Miles would be much [illegible] General Hancock in command of the department of the south but [illegible] a powerful rival in General Mackenzie. In the event of his failing to secure this [illegible] General Miles will make a strong effort to be transferred to a more important post. [illegible] There is talk of abolishing the department of the south altogether but while there is really no apparent necessity for its continuance it is too available a place for an officer who deserves favor to be entirely done away with and at present there seems little probability of such an event.

CHEAP FOREIGN POSTAGE

Department Officials Reply to Mr. James' Statements

Washington Sept 29.—Postoffice department officials characterize the talk of ex Postmaster General James about two-cent postage and daily mails between this country and Europe as absurd. They say that the country is well served now with foreign mails, as there are four mail steamers per week to England besides closed mails to all other countries of Europe. The regular mail for England, which goes four times per week carries packages of mail for Germany which are forwarded by the British postal authorities. Then in addition to this two and sometimes three mails per week are sent direct to Germany. This gives to Germany practically a daily mail. To meet other countries which get four mails per week through the English mails there is at least one and often two additional mails weekly so that to European countries generally there are from five to seven mails per week. The idea of reducing rates to 2 cents they say is ridiculous. No country in the world has cheaper foreign letter rates than those of the United States at present. It is a member of the postal union whose minimum rate is 5 cents and many of whose members charge a higher rate than that. The cost of conveying letters to European countries is much more than 2 cents. The department pays 1½ cents simply for the transfer across the Atlantic on all letters and in addition pays two centimes, or two fifths of a cent on each letter for transportation across any of the countries of Europe. This in addition to the cost of carrying the letters in this country before they reach the port where they are put aboard the steamer. The foreign mail system they say [illegible] itself now and could not nearly do so except for the sum paid to the United States by the British government for transporting its mails across the continent to and from Australia and Japan.

A DUEL IN VIRGINIA

One of the Combatants Receives a Probably Fatal Wound

Chicago Sept 29.—The Times's Lancaster (Va) special of September 28 says: George Thomas and Algernon Battleheim fought a duel near here this evening at a lonely spot known as Stray Battery. Thomas was armed with a double-barreled shotgun loaded with heavy shot, and Battleheim used a seven shooter Colt's revolver. Battleheim up to two weeks ago, had been a constant visitor at Thomas' residence. Rumors were circulated that he was in love with his friend's wife and Thomas after carefully watching the couple for several days, ascertained as he thought, that a plot was on foot by Battleheim to entice Mrs Thomas away. The next day Thomas' wife was missing and was not seen for two days. After the first day Battleheim made his appearance and Thomas charged him with having enticed his wife away. The other indignantly denied the charge and said he meant to hold his traducer responsible for his assertion. They parted and the next day the wife returned to her husband. Battleheim, however demanded satisfaction of Thomas and the latter agreed to meet him this morning. Their singular choice of weapons was not in strict accordance with the code, but it was held that while Thomas had only two barrels loaded with shot they were capable of doing more damage than seven barrels loaded with single balls and so it proved. At the first fire at a distance of thirty paces, Thomas sent a full charge of shot in Battleheim's face. The unfortunate man fell after firing wildly a second time. He was lingering at death's door at last accounts. The parties had no seconds.

PACIFIC COAST

Arrested for the Murder of her Husband.

Los Angeles Sept 28.—Something of a sensation was created this morning by the arrest of Mrs Amadon widow of Henry Amadon who was murdered in this city last Tuesday morning, and her sister Mrs Greenleaf as participants in the crime. On the day of the murder John Foster the alleged paramour of Mrs Amadon and Thomas B Dings, her brother were arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the crime. At the inquest it was testified to that three persons were seen standing over the prostrate form of the murdered man, and circumstances since developed lead the authorities to believe that two of these were Mrs Amadon and her sister dressed in male attire and the third Foster. Billings is connected with the assassination as accessory before the fact he having obtained the information that apprised the others of the hour at which Amadon was to return having been changed, and enabled the murderers to waylay their victim just before he reached his house. All four were arraigned on a charge of murder and will be examined next Tuesday.

Capt Alexander's Condition—Latest from the Cairnsmore Wreck.

[illegible] Oct [illegible].—Special.—Dr [illegible] attendant physician, says this evening the symptoms of Captain Alexander's case are more favorable, partial consciousness being restored and temperature being lower.

The hull of the wrecked ship Cairnsmore has broken in two and is full of water. The cargo is necessarily a total loss. A lot of gear, rigging and sails have been removed to the shore as also some ship's stores. The dispute between the wreckers continues, both parties claiming legal possession.

"You see that young gentleman opposite. You should know him. He comes from a very old family." "Indeed! and he so fresh!"

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Review of Its Affairs by Governor Newell.

HIS MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE.

Rapid Development of the Territory—Its Remarkable Prosperity—Suggestions for Legislation, Etc., Etc.

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:—Conforming with established custom I come before you, in person to present the biennial executive address, concerning the condition of the territory and to make such recommendations as my observation and manifestly necessary requirements compel.

The people have confided to you the high trust of making laws by which they are to be governed. Upon the executive has been imposed the duty of considering not only the welfare of your constituents, the people of Washington, but also such concern as the general government representing the people of all the states and territories of the Union, who with parental liberality defray the expenses of your executive legislative and judicial departments, holds within your borders.

The interests of Washington are as diversified and in many respects as divergent as are our resources and our physical conditions. Our people come from all states and nations of the civilized world are accustomed to different phases of society and forms of government each strongly attached to the institutions, political and religious, of their respective countries.

For manifest reasons we are about to assume a foremost position in the affairs of the world. All of these considerations impose a weighty responsibility upon us, requiring an exercise of the utmost toleration, liberality, wisdom, conscience and courage which we can exert. Let us therefore, rise to the highest attainable plane of patriotism in the discharge of our respective duties, and entertain only an ambition for the public good.

Upon such labors I devoutly invoke the favor of Almighty God.

Bountiful harvests, good health, freedom from all conspicuous afflictions ofttimes incident to mankind, extensive occupation and improvement of lands, building of towns, increase in manufacturing commerce and navigation and railroads, large additions to population and general advancement give assurance of prosperity which is eminently gratifying to all people who foresee in this country happy homes for the present and for future generations of mankind.

GENERAL FUND—SUMMARY

Balance per last biennial report		$ 22 715 91
Total receipts general fund account		131 732 86
Total [illegible] notarial fund account		1 3[illegible] [illegible]
Total receipts commissioner deeds account		27 50
Aggregate		$156 016 27
Total disbursements		[illegible] 3 44
Balance cash in treasury October 1 1883		$ 28 312 83

Amount of outstanding unpaid warrants the estimated amount of salaries of officers and other accounts due and unpaid and the approximate net balance in the treasury October 1 1883:

Aggregate cash balance as above		$28 312 83
Amount of unpaid warrants	$1 538 76
Prosecuting attorneys, unpaid salary account	1 075 00
Hospital for insane account reported and not paid	2 821 00
Miscellaneous	5 000 00
		10 434 76
Approximate net balance cash over all outstanding claims to date		$17,878 0[illegible]

Estimated receipts and disbursements for the next ensuing two years based upon the tax levies of 1882 and 1883 and the probable increase of population and property valuations.

The total assessed value and territorial tax levy for this year may be summarized as follows:

Assessed value of all property 1882	$32 662,901 00
Territorial tax levy on same	81 415 78

Notwithstanding strenuous efforts have been made to obtain complete returns of property valuations as assessed for the year 1883 the following counties up to this date have failed to make any returns viz: Klickitat, Spokane, Thurston and Yakima.

The aggregate valuation returned by those counties which have reported up to this date is $35 674 0[illegible].

The returns of the four delinquent counties above mentioned for the year 1882 aggregated the sum of $6,986 3[illegible].

Assuming that there will be no falling off but rather a relative increase in those counties the probable total valuation upon full returns for the year 1883 will approximate the sum $43 000 000. The total valuation returned for the year 1882 was $32 [illegible] 901. Subtracting this sum from the approximate return of this year (1883) will show the increase for the present fiscal year to have been about $10 [illegible].

An increase of 30 per cent for the next two years would give an average property valuation of about $50 000 000. It is safe to estimate the amount at $45 000 000. Upon that basis the present rate of taxation for territorial purposes 2½ mills on the dollar would yield an average annual revenue of $112 500 in gross amount.

Deducting from this sum the usual percentage returned delinquent, the amounts of costs, bills treasurers commissions and other abatements allowed under the present laws the probable cash receipts into the treasury for the next two years will approximate $180 000.

This sum, taking into consideration the cash surplus now on hand will be sufficient to meet the current expenses for that period. While this estimate for the current expenses is in excess of the estimate of the past two years it must be remembered that expenses in nearly every department of the territorial government are increasing almost in ratio with new population and increase of property valuations.

Estimate of amounts probably required to meet the current expenses for the next two years:

Hospital for the insane	$ 75 000 00
Transportation of the insane	15 000 00
Territorial convicts	50 000 00
Prosecuting attorneys	9 000 00
Auditor and treasurer	6 000 00
Printing and advertising	6 000 00
Superintendent public instruction	3 600 00

PENITENTIARY

The penitentiary at Seatco contains seventy three persons. The cost of their maintenance for the past two years has been $33 000.

The management is judicious and firm, very properly tempered with kindness. The prisoners have general good health and but few deaths have occurred. When seriously sick they are placed in the hospital, have good accommodations, nursing and excellent medical attention. They are provided with abundant food in suitable variety, ample clothing and ordinary sleeping cells. They are generally well disposed in conduct and not a few of them give evidences of a desire to become good citizens. Movable shackles have been introduced and used in many cases to the comfort, benefit and satisfaction of the convicts who remove them at meal time, at night and on Sundays. In the out of door system of labor it is considered unsafe to dispense with the riveted shackles, in view of the additional temptation and facilities for escape incident to the new ones, but in any cases where they can be safely used they are always applied.

A portion of the appropriation for their purchase remains unexpended which I recommend shall be devoted to procuring as many of these shackles as can be obtained therewith. Moral instructors have been appointed and have discharged the duties imposed faithfully and with decidedly satisfactory effect. Reading matter also has been provided, as directed by law much to the entertainment and gratification of the prisoners. I have issued but few pardons save under the statute allowing rebate of five days to each month for good behavior, upon the recommendation of the superintendent. This law is most salutary, inspiring good conduct, with hope of reward, which is always recognized by the pardoning power.

The present contract for confining, guarding, boarding and general support of the prisoners will expire on the first day of August, 1884 and before your successors assemble. It will be necessary for you to provide for future contingencies at this session. This will be the most important of all your legislative duties. I therefore recommend that its consideration may be entertained by you as soon as may be agreeable to your honorable bodies.

The present contractor has fulfilled his obligations to the territory honorably and efficiently, has been at much expense in building the prison and stock-

CALIFORNIA.

Wells, Fargo File Complaint.

San Francisco Oct. 3.—A bill in equity has been filed in the United States court by Wells Fargo & Co., against the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. The complaint is directed more particularly against the Northern Pacific Express Company, a majority of which stock is held by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which also owns a majority of the Pacific Coast steamship stock. Wells Fargo claim that owing to this combination of interests, the steamship company have refused to carry their express matter giving the entire privilege to the Northern Pacific express. Judge Sawyer granted a preliminary writ of injunction, pending litigation. Wells, Fargo have already been enjoined in Washington territory, and also in Montana. It is believed the result of the fight will be similar to that of the railroad conference—to confine each express company to its own particular territory.

The Coleman Bros.' Failure.

Concerning the failure of Coleman Bros., clothiers of San Francisco and New York, a gentleman familiar with their affairs says the failure was not unexpected. At one time they were rated among the half million dollar firms, but the retirement of Sol. Coleman, who lives in Europe, and who took a quarter of a million out of the business, together with the heavy mining losses of one of the members of the firm causes their going under. The assignees commenced taking stock, but have been delayed by Jewish holidays. It is believed the liabilities will not exceed $200,000.

Coming to Portland.

[Special.]—James H Cutter, late of the firm of Cutter, Lloyd & Co., who for many years has been identified with the produce and commission business of this city and an old member of the produce exchange, has formed a partnership with John T Cutting and Charles F. Merle, and goes to Portland for the purpose of establishing a shipping and commission house there under the name of Cutting, Merle & Cutter.

Gault Accepts.

It is stated that John A. Gault has definitely accepted the railroad pool commissionership, with headquarters in this city, and is expected here the end of this month.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The Pioneers "Stuck" at Wallula.

Wallula Junction, Oct 3.—[Special.]—The train of six Pullman sleepers, three emigrant sleepers, three day coaches and one baggage car, reached here at 3 o'clock this morning and has been lying on a side track all day, owing to the transfer boat at Ainsworth being stuck on a bar in Snake river. We will probably not get across the river until to-morrow morning. The pioneers are patient and happy, considering the great delay. The "bad man from Bitter creek," with the leather clothes is desperate, and threatens to "kyarve the whole railroad outfit if we don't start soon."

Interesting News Notes from Cheney.

Cheney, Oct 3.—[Special.]—District court is in session this week, with Judge Wingard presiding. The prosecuting attorney entered a nolle pros in the case of the Territory vs George Capps for killing James Whitney last spring, and the prisoner was discharged. The grand jury found no bill against Ira Greenwood, charged with embezzling money of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. This action gives universal satisfaction here, where Mr Greenwood is well known and enjoys the utmost confidence of the community.

L B Jewell's jewelry store was robbed last Sunday evening of about thirty watches. No clue to the robbers.

The Colfax and Cheney stage was stopped about two miles from Colfax on Monday, by a mounted and well armed robber, and the Wells Fargo express box demanded. The driver T Dow informed the robber that he did not carry the express, but was glad to turn over his money, $14. The robber had stated in Colfax the same day that he was George Aldridge, who Sam Vinson of the Oakes house says, is a murderer and terrible desperate. He is still at large.

WASHINGTON NEWS

Northern Pacific Land Decisions

Washington, Oct 3.—In the land case of Daniel Haines vs Holton Parker and the Northern Pacific Railroad Company the secretary of the interior holds that there can be but one legislative withdrawal under any general route. When, therefore, several trial lines treated as such by the company, have been made before the general route is finally fixed and determined, withdrawal under such trial lines will be regarded as executive withdrawals, and entries made in good faith upon odd sections before notice of withdrawal, under such trial lines as approved at the local office, will be maintained and the land covered by such entries held to be excepted from the grant.

In the case of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company vs George M Pressey the secretary holds that when a settlement is made upon an odd section within the limits of a proposed grant after notice of withdrawal was received at the local office, the department can afford no relief to the settler, and in such a case the railroad company takes the land by virtue of its grant. The fact that the line of the general route was changed after settlement, is immaterial provided the tract fall within the line of general routes, where improvement had been made before survey and by mistake placed upon an odd section. The case is not changed.

The Mormon Question.

Washington, Oct. 3.—A Mormon missionary who is here claims to have recently made sixty converts, mostly girls between the ages of 15 and 2[illegible]. He is an associate of the Mormons who were recently tarred and feathered in Indiana. Congressmen who are here express themselves very earnestly about the Mormon question and say that it is evident that something more stringent than the Edmunds law will have to be devised if polygamy is to be abolished. One plan is to legislate the present government out of existence and to have a provisional government created, officers of which would be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate.

The Corean Embassy.

Washington Oct. 3.—The Corean embassy visited the treasury department this morning, and were presented to Secretary Folger, after which they were shown through the building by Captain Fitch and a committee of chiefs of divisions. They visited the treasury office and were shown through the vaults the cash room and the redemption bureau, and were then taken to the bureau of engraving and printing.

Precautions Against Yellow Fever.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Surgeon General Hamilton, of the Marine hospital service, telegraphed the collector at Yuma, A. T., to appoint a sanitary inspector in the same place and at Benson, to inspect trains arriving from the south. This caution is taken because of information received from the Governor of Arizona that a soldier at Huachuca in that territory, died of yellow fever recently.

Going Home to Vote

Washington Oct. 3.—A number of department employes, who have residences in Ohio, leave Washington this week, to go home to vote. Those who go however will not be allowed any time by the department, except such as is taken from annual leaves of absence.

The Third Rail

Deer Lodge New Northwest

During the last ten days operations have rapidly developed in preparing the Utah and Northern roadbed between Butte and Garrison for the third rail, so as to permit operation of it by the Northern Pacific trains. The method is to remove all but a small portion of the ballast between the present narrow gauge ties shoveling it out to each side and thus widening the grade. Then for each alternate narrow gauge tie a broad gauge tie (Union Pacific standard) will be placed. A 52-pound steel rail will then be laid for one rail of the standard gauge, and the narrow gauge rail is shifted over so as to bring the center of the broad gauge track in the center of the roadbed. Then the road will be ballasted by gravel trains and it seems to us, with such a bed of ties and good ballasting it ought to make a very substantial roadbed. The Union Pacific Company has now something over 100 men at work preparing roadbed, and are delivering from Silver Bow junction this way sixteen car loads of ties per day. Fifty cars are engaged in the transportation. These ties are brought from Battle creek and are said to be much superior to those used on the Northern Pacific. It is presumed the Northern Pacific will lay in the third rail from Garrison to Helena, so as to perfect the agreed three-rail system this fall. The weather so far has been admirable, and the Utah and Northern Company appears disposed to take advantage of it by employing all the laborers it can get in the country in preparing roadbed.

A WEAK SPOT IN PROTECTION

The Pioneer-Press of St. Paul, noting that the clear-headed and far sighted economist, David A Wells, lays his finger upon the weakest spot in the protective system namely that while it encourages capital to embark in industries by offering it an artificial stimulus at the same time limiting protection to the requirements of the domestic market rightly says that here is a defect in the machinery which makes its break-down only a question of time It is true, as that paper adds, that we can build a wall about us which will prevent our people from buying what they need abroad But by this we not only force them to take the native product at an enhanced price, we also make it inevitable that no one from abroad can buy the protected commodity in our markets And to this fact much of the prevailing depression in great industries is due Were it not that this country is an empire in itself, this effect would long ago have been most powerfully felt But the mighty expanse of our land constantly filling with new population that added to the need of manufactured commodities, kept the demand reasonably steady It was still possible to sell at the highest prices guaranteed by protection But demand and supply refuse to be adjusted for long by artificial measures Capital was instantly attracted by the large profits of manufacture and production was enormously expanded. Then at last, it became evident that, in shutting out sellers, we had excluded buyers also A tariff which prevents imports must raise prices and thus prevent exports When the swing of the pendulum has carried us to an undue production of manufactured commodities, we cannot place them in the world's market for relief, since we cannot sell there, except at a loss We must simply keep the goods until the home supply has been so far exhausted as to renew the demand and this means a period of inactivity of the closing down of mills, of reduction of wages of business depression, and of general distress Manufacturers, who would gladly turn elsewhere for relief, are beginning to see this, and some most remarkable expressions of opinion have recently been heard from high protective sources, to the effect that a reduction of duties cannot be postponed much longer from the side of the interests of the manufacturer alone Our wool growers in a convention held at The Dalles last week, demanded an increase of the duty on wool as a means of bringing them higher prices. But our country does not, nor can it, produce all grades of wool The qualities which it does produce are abundant and cheap, but no country can produce all kinds of wool any more than it can produce all kinds of fruit" and our manufacturers are not allowed to have the necessary proportion of foreign wools to mix with the domestic article" This limits our manufacturing industry and increases the supply of home-grown wool, with consequent reduction of market values Mr Wells says further There can be no importation of our peculiar American staples even under free trade, because ours are the best of their kind, and they are grown on the lowest priced lands in the world One-third of the woolen mills are idle to-day We can hardly export a yard of any of the products of our woolen mills There is where the wool grower is affected The production of our domestic wool increases and in the absence of any extended demand by our manufacturers the price of domestic fleeces is steadily lowered

DEMORALIZING NEWSPAPERS

The Chicago Herald says that "evidences that the southern states are developing a civilization vastly superior to that of the north are not wanting Georgia sends venders of trashy and indecent police papers to the chain gang, and Louisville boots the Ford braggarts, who were hired to assassinate Jesse James, out of the city.

"One swallow does not make a summer but it is nevertheless very gratifying to observe that the courts of Georgia are willing to test the constitutionality and propriety of the law banishing a New York "police" newspaper from the state in this way, and it might be wished that the sentence to the chain gang could be made to include the proprietor of the paper as well as his agent. The extent of the circulation of the Police Gazette may be inferred from the fact that its proprietor, whose worldly wealth 1) years ago consisted of $ 0 now enjoys an income of $200,000 per annum The contents of this paper, both pictorial and literary are direct allurements to vice and violence. Its popularity depends upon depraved and vitiated taste There is a kind of literature which Lowell very justly characterized in his address on Fielding as that which shocks but does not corrupt. The coarseness of Fielding was not intended for any harm But, as the Providence Journal says "the sort of stuff whose flaunting pictorial vulgarities are hung up to attract the eyes of the young, and whose degrading spectacle cannot be avoided by decent persons in the streets or in the cars, and whose popularity depends upon its pandering to vice, is not the product of any honest coarseness, but is deliberately intended for evil, so far as the law will permit Furthermore it has been constantly growing in boldness, and its inevitable tendency is to trench as far as possible upon the limits of toleration That its demoralizing influence is immense cannot be doubted

The civilization of some of the northern states has reached the point where the managers of railroads forbid their newsboys from selling these vicious papers on the trains, and if the example of Georgia should be followed by all who have control over the sale of newspapers, it would be a great gain to virtue and decency The wholesome influences of schools, churches, homes and reputable newspapers would not then be so heavily counteracted by temptations to immorality and violence

ENGLAND AND AMERICAN COMPETITION

It is becoming recognized by the most profound observers in England that the effects of American competition upon production in that country do not promise to be transient but permanent There is, in fact, no more ground for believing that the English farmers will regain their past supremacy in the grain market than there is for believing that our own eastern states will ever be relegated to wheat and corn growing The development of western America has simply swamped the English farmers They were too heavily handicapped to have a chance in the race The conditions of English society doomed them The problem was plain enough Here was a contest in production between two countries In one of them the land belonged to the cultivator In the other the cultivator was only a tenant, and a landlord had to live out of the profits of the soil as well as the tenant and the laborer There could not be a doubt as to the result of such a competition The land which had to bear the triple charge must succumb to the land which had only a double charge to bear And there is no ground for supposing that these conditions will change, at least as regards American land Wheat will be raised in the Pacific and western states on the present principles for generations so far as can be seen, and it is certain that England cannot afford to wait a single decade for a change If, therefore any new departure is made it will have to be taken by her, and such a new departure as must almost loosen the foundations of English society For if it is necessary for the British farmer to abandon wheat raising, this involves the practical extinction of the British farmer But to extinguish the farmer is to destroy the value of the land, and to destroy the value of the land is to pull down the landed proprietors or in other words, the aristocracy. In fact the frightful idea is suggested that it may become absolutely necessary for these spoiled children of fortune to go to work at something and nothing more appalling than that could be imagined

Yet it is difficult to perceive what help there is for them The inevitable fact of American competition is present The equally inevitable fact of ever-cheapening transportation is present In fact it seems to be clear that the British farmer must go, and when he goes the land system of England must be revolutionized But will the movement stop at the land? The adherence to monarchical government has hitherto been mainly due to the influence of the great landed interest If that interest is about to be dissolved through the depreciation of the value of the land it is evident that the commercial and mechanical elements will obtain increased importance These interests have no strong traditional attachment to the crown and moreover they are much less patient with royal drains upon the treasury It would seem, therefore that American competition may lead to other than commercial changes and that in fact this rapid development of the resources of the new world may, in Canning's words, "redress the balance of the old

The work of the constitutional convention of the proposed new state to be formed perhaps from the southern half of Dakota is completed and the document formulated by it is given to the world But few features have been described in the dispatches The prohibitionists were put off with the provision that any measure may be put to popular vote when 5000 voters have signed a petition requesting it and that upon a majority vote such petition may become a part of the state constitution This provision is quite remarkable and if it is ever in force the citizens of Dakota will vividly realize that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty They will enjoy the privilege of voting pretty much all of the time in order to defeat ill considered amendments to the constitution The governor is to receive but $2000 per annum, the treasurer auditor and attorney general $1000 each and the secretary and superintendent of public instruction $1500 each The honor of being officers of the great state of Dakota is supposed to supply the balance of their compensation A new-made state of the American union ought to be able to adopt a faultless constitution, for it has many models to select from.

A writer in the Atlantic says that writing has been practiced in India for 2500 years, yet the custodians of the Vedas have never trusted to it. They trust entirely for the transmission of the sacred books to disciplined memory They have manuscripts, and have even a printed text, but they do not learn their sacred lore from them They learn it as their ancestors learned it thousands of years ago, from the lips of a teacher, so that the Vedic succession shall never be broken For eight years in their youth they are engaged in learning it They learn a few lines every day repeat them for hours so that the whole house resounds with the noise and when their apprenticeship is finished you can open them like a book and find any passage you like, any word any accent Max Muller shows that this oral teaching was carried on exactly as now as early as 500 years B C Dr Gottheil of New York asserts that he has in his study a man who in the same way has learned the Talmud by heart and can take it up at any word given to him and go on repeating it, syllable by syllable with absolute correctness

A year ago a cabinet officer found it necessary to use his influence to secure a respectful mention of the acting president of the United States in the platform of the republican party in Maine The republicans in Illinois had passed a conditional indorsement that was almost an insult So far as he might prove worthy of the party's support they said he should have it But now the republicans in state conventions are cordially indorsing President Arthur That there has been a great change in the feeling of the party toward him in all parts of the country is evident and this is due to his dignified and truthful conduct He has been courteous and gentlemanly without being effusive, and has thus far disappointed those who predicted that he would be the tool of the New York crowd with whom he had trained But all this does not mean that the people wish to have him for president another term It is undoubtedly true that he is a candidate but we do not think the republicans will take the venture of nominating him That would open old sores and excite feelings which could not be allayed simply by saying that he has made a good president

Governor Butler has come out forcibly in support of the three R's He wants more reading writing and arithmetic even at the expense of some of the languages and higher mathematics This view is undoubtedly sound, and is especially applicable in the highly intellectual communities where the tendency is toward cultivating the higher branches, while neglecting the thorough elementary education of the masses But Butler is a presidential candidate who hopes to get the vote of the solid south, where free schools are not universal and where the urging of elementary education will be a positive rather than a comparative reform. If he wants to do the widest possible service he should urge elementary education upon the south, even although that course should cost him a portion of that political support which he has no hope of getting in any event

The impression that New England agriculture is playing out seems to be at fault Some one who has been looking into the matter finds that while the number of people engaged in farming is less than a half century ago the number of acres under cultivation and the value of products is now considerably greater In New Hampshire which is certainly not the most booming of Yankee states the value of lands increased from $55 345 000 in 1840 to $75,834 000 in 1880 Maine, Vermont and the rest are still the homes of thrifty farmers who have never succumbed to the western fever and who are very essential to New England's prosperity.

F M Shields of Coopwood, Mississippi is the inventor of a big gun just patented, which he calls the "Mississippi Sweepstakes" and describes thus "The gun shoots 4000 balls at the explosion of one cap It will kill and wound 800 men out of 1000 men at a distance of 100 yards It has forty-nine barrels all combined in one and each barrel shooting one degree and twelve minutes on a horizontal plane from the others Shooting a distance of 100 yards, it will cover a space of 100 yards filling a want long felt But it may scatter too much, as other long felt wants have been known to do

Senator Sherman is very hopeful of the success of the republican party in Ohio but he does not look either for such an extraordinary poll or for such a majority as will recall the Garfield campaign both of which one would suppose from partisan claims were certain He thinks that the prohibition amendment will be heavily supported but will fail to get a majority In order to carry it must have a majority of all the votes thrown in the election Thus failures to vote on the amendment will count against it

A writer in the Popular Science Monthly propounds the theory that a change of climate is taking place in this country from electrical disturbances He believes that radical changes are taking place in our atmosphere and climate, that the construction of great railroad belts across the continent and the erection of a vast network of telegraph and telephone wires exert an influence upon the atmosphere by disturbing the equilibrium of electric forces

One man has been found who says that Chapman's letter, published in his Sunday organ, "bears the marks of honesty and is a perfect defense." It is Postmaster Steel

Thousands saved from death by Dr King's New Discovery for consumption Trial Bottles free

A candidate for one of the city offices who voted for Chapman says he knew Lewis corrupt and that he expected to buy the appointment which had been promised, but another fellow came in who had a longer purse and carried off the prize The disappointed man thought it was going to be a private sale but it turned out to be a public auction, and an eager applicant outbid him

Chapman says he made the contract with Besser and tried to carry it out in good faith Then of course he has been taking the money promised in that contract Nobody doubts it

WANTS AN EXCLUSIVE RIGHT.—Charles W Allen has begun suit in the state circuit court against Edward Dalton, asking for a preliminary injunction to prevent defendant from interfering with a certain private road. It seems that a right of way had at some time been deeded to the defendant, and he now claims that right to be an exclusive one. The suit is therefore brought to test that question. A C Gibbs is attorney for the plaintiff.

HANDSOME BUILDING.—W W Spaulding's new building on First between Columbia and Clay streets is nearly ready for occupation. SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—United States District Attorney Watson yesterday commenced suit in the United States circuit court to recover $14 000 damages from Jeptha Davidson of Phoenix, Jackson county for cutting timber on government lands. AMUSEMENTS.

THE MINSTRELS.—Walter Moss Boston operatic minstrels gave their first performance last evening at New Market theater and a very meritorious one it was. Portland has in the past, been shamefully imposed upon by so-called minstrel shows and it is pleasant to chronicle an exception to the rule. The first part introduces sixteen of the performers all of whom both instrumental and vocal displayed an ability far superior to that ordinarily witnessed in a minstrel performance. Most of the jokes were also new and well told by the end men Messrs Thatcher Morton Leech and Mathews. In the second part Miss Bessie Louise King the sweet singer who made her first appearance in this city some months ago and established herself a favorite with the amusement seekers, is introduced, and the outburst of applause which greeted her as she advanced to the footlights showed that she still held a warm corner in the heart of the public. The clog dance of Sam Morton displayed wonderful execution and met with a hearty encore. The entire performance was in every respect first class and the company well deserves the patronage of all amusement seekers wherever it appears

MULDOON COMING TO OREGON

Wm Muldoon the champion Greco Roman wrestler has written B W Schwartz Donald Dinnie's manager that he will come to Portland to wrestle the proposed match pending between himself and Donald Dinnie for $500 a side the forfeit money and stakes being now held in San Francisco. The conditions of the match are that three styles are to be wrestled—two falls Græco Roman, two falls Scotch back hold and one fall catch-as-catch can. Muldoon has won two matches from Dinnie the first one lasting four hours and was given up by Dinnie, and the second one was lost by one second it being a match against time. Since then Muldoon has wrestled with Regal Bibby and Hugues and has a match pending with Whistler. Muldoon is termed the "Chesterfield of the Arena," and his every transaction in athletic annals has been creditable and honorable to a degree. This is a guarantee of the character of this match to be wrestled here, which will take place at New Market theater

THE CITY COUNCIL.

A Very Long and Interesting Session Last Evening.

FOUR COUNCILMEN WHO WINK AT CORRUPTION

His Dishonor the Mayor Exhibits the Coolest Impudence and is Aided and Abetted in Disgracing the City

The lobby of the council chamber was filled last evening with persons interested in the city's welfare who expected some action to be taken in regard to the convicted political corruptionist now occupying the mayor's office. But alas they were doomed to disappointment. There was an effort made by those members of the council who are deeply disgusted at the mayor's official rottenness but General Gerdes Chapman's right hand supporter had so well organized his forces that their uprightness of purpose was defeated. Fortunately the record remains and he who runs may read the names of those who support or wink at moral depravity and official corruption

At five minutes of eight the tap of the gavel was heard and Mayor Chapman said huskily "The council will please come to order." All the councilmen answered to their names at roll call except Adams and Scoggins and the latter came in a few moments later. There seemed to be a general desire to get down to business at once and upon motion of Honeyman the reading of the minutes were dispensed with

COMMUNICATIONS

From the mayor appointing I Smith a regular policeman

Petitions Remonstrances, Etc.

ASKING FOR DAMAGES

From Frank Logan asking that damage to his carriage caused by a street run and amounting to $125 be made good by the city. He sets forth in the petition that one of the bars of the accident is his own and that the late street commissioner Braden had previously to that time had his attention called to the faulty condition of the road. The petition was on motion of Sears referred to the committees on streets and judiciary and the city attorney

IMPROVEMENTS ASKED

From Geo H Williams, asking that C and D streets be improved by constructing side and crosswalks on such streets between Fifteenth and Eighteenth streets. Referred to committee on streets

From P B Sinnott and others property owners on D street asking that the sewer on said street be extended from North Second to North Eleventh street. Referred to committee on streets

STREET LAMPS WANTED

From M Lichtenstein, asking leave to erect on the edge of the sidewalk in front of his place of business, No 164 First street two posts 9 feet high and 8 to 16 feet apart with an arch between for gas burners. Referred to committee on streets and public property

From Geo V James and Walter J Burns, representing that great necessity exists for a gas lamp at the corner of Eighteenth and I streets and asking that one be erected there. Petition granted

From G S Riley asking that a street lamp be erected at the corner of Twentieth and G streets. Referred to the committee on streets and public property

From Mrs Henry E Jones and others asking that a gaslight be placed at the southwest corner of the intersection of D and Sixteenth streets. Referred to committee on streets and public property

From A Beler and others asking for a street lamp on the corner of Twentieth and I streets. Referred to committee on streets and public property

From William O Conn[illegible] and nine other property owners on J and Twenty first streets setting forth that the city is becoming thickly populated and that the transient public as well as the people living in the vicinity demand that a lamp be placed at the intersection of those two streets. Upon motion of Scoggins the petition was granted

ANOTHER WATER COMPETITOR

A petition was read from Messrs Cunningham and Talbot, stating at some length a proposition to furnish the city with a plentiful supply of pure water and asking that they be allowed to lay pipes and mains along the streets for that purpose. The petition in view of the present agitation of Portland a future water supply, is given in full

To the Mayor and the Common Council of the City of Portland. The undersigned your petitioners would respectfully represent that they are the owners of a supply of pure clear cold water equal at all times of the year to 100,000,000 gallons each twenty four hours, that they have secured the right to this water at a point so high up in the Cascade mountains as to be above all possible pollution or impurities attendant upon settlements along water courses—the land at and above the point indicated not being susceptible of use for agricultural or grazing purposes, that the water referred to is Bull Run river, and the source of supply of the stream above the point where your petitioners have secured the right and ownership thereof is the water shed of the northwest side of Mount Hood, that at this water above the point where your petitioners have located the site of their dam for diverting it from its natural channel it was over a rocky bed with great swiftness is never affected or riled by rains is pure, clear and cold, being composed of the melting snows of Mount Hood, that it is the intention of your petitioners and their associates to conduct a sufficient quantity of said water to the city of Portland and adjoining cities and towns to supply all demands and needs for motive power irrigation, domestic and other uses that such is the altitude at the point where said water is to be diverted from its natural channel and the route over which it is to be conducted that any degree of pressure within the city of Portland up to 500 feet can be secured thus making this source of water supply available by simple hydraulic pressure for the extinguishment of fires in the most elevated parts of the city, that the water route has been surveyed and mapped, the right of way over a large portion of the distance secured and work commenced, that they have taken the preliminary steps to organize a company and have already had assured all the capital necessary to carry into effect the undertaking already commenced of furnishing to the citizens of Portland an inexhaustible supply of pure, clear cold water. They therefore ask your honorable body to grant to them their associates and assigns, the right and privilege of laying pipes and conducting water through the city of Portland for the purposes before stated

G B TALBOT

The petition was referred to the committee on streets

WHY THEY WERE NOT PAID

A petition was presented from the Portland Macadamizing and Paving Company regarding the improvement of Ninth street which was completed by the petitioners, but was not accepted because it will not stand a test of 1000 pounds on wagons with two-inch tires. The company represent that the above test was intended for a rock covered with screenings from crushed rock which when wet and rolled becomes compact with the rock beneath making a smooth hard surface. On Ninth street the top dressing is gravel and from its nature and form cannot be made to pack as screenings. The officers of the street department have examined the work and admit it is done according to contract but because the above test cannot be attained they refuse to audit the company's bill. Wherefore the company at peals to the council for relief asking that its claim be allowed

Councilman Honeyman stated that there was some discrepancy in the drawing of the contract and the matter should be looked into. The petition was then referred to the committee on judiciary

A BAD BRIDGE

A communication from George W Philbrick calls attention to the condition of the bridge on the macadamized road near the foot of Sheridan street. Mr Philbrick says that the bridge is dangerous and that some action should be taken toward placing it in a useable condition or else the entire structure should be torn down and the street blockaded to prevent disaster that will certainly occur if left as it now is

Upon motion of Gerdes the communication was referred to the superintendent of streets

IMPROVEMENTS OPPOSED

Seth L Pope A G Hammond and Josephine A Crocker property owners remonstrate against the proposed improvement of Porter street from the east line of First street to the east line of Corbett street claiming that the present street is sufficient for all purposes of travel and traffic. Referred to the committee on streets

J and S Simon Thatcher & Mackay and others remonstrate against the paving of C street between Front and Third with stone block in accordance with the published notice of the council. Referred to the committee on streets

Michael Taylor and others remonstrate against the proposed improvements of Montgomery street from Front to Sixth by macadamizing laying sidewalks etc giving the following reasons. First because when Montgomery street is improved it should be improved its whole length second because Montgomery street will be a street used by street railroads and these should be laid before the street is improved. Referred to the committee on streets

Reports of Officers and Committees

CHIEF OF POLICE WATKINDS

The following report from Chief of Police Watkinds was read. The mayor smiled complacently at the endorsement of his administration which it contained

PORTLAND O[illegible]

To his honor the Mayor and Common Council—Gentlemen I respectfully beg leave to submit the following report for the months of August and September

The police department have made for the past two months 1[illegible] arrests for violation of the ordinances of this city and the laws of this state

The fines imposed by the police judge for this time amount to $12[illegible] of which the city treasury has received $6830, and will in a short time receive the further sum of $4420 on causes that have been appealed before his honor Judge Matthew P Deady

During the month of September I became convinced from [illegible] that there were persons unlawfully doing business of various kinds which were subject to pay license by the ordinances of the city and I reported the same to Mayor Chapman and after consultation I being limited as to police officers, I appointed A B Singleton to make a thorough canvass of this city and return to my office a full and complete list of the names and places of all persons in this city doing business that are required to pay a license therefor

After making a careful examination, I find that there are many persons running trucks drays and wagons who have done business for more than a year without any license. And also I find on a river front of three and one half miles long, principally covered by wharves that but two persons have taken out a license and one of those only for the month of September past. The records of this office do not show that this license fee, amounting to thousands of dollars has been collected for years or the money due from that source found its way in to the city treasury

The collections for license for this quarter amount to $18,247 86 the principal part of which has been paid during August and September

During the time I have had the honor of occupying the office of chief of police his honor the mayor, has rendered me valuable assistance in directing and advising in matters appertaining to the duties of my office, the result of which is shown by the fact that the receipts from fines in the police court alone have more than paid all the running expenses of this department for the whole time thus far, a fact not true of any other city in the United States

A warrant was issued by the police judge and placed in my hands commanding the arrest of T M Draper a fugitive from justice and a requisition from his excellency Governor Z F Moody appointing me as the agent of this state to bring him back from the state of Texas and having a permit from the mayor and the consent of a majority of the common council, I leave the city for a few days time and during my absence have placed in charge of the department Captain E F Turner who is an able and efficient officer. Hoping to return soon and report for duty I am, very respectfully

WM H WATKINDS Chief of Police

Referred to the committee on health and police

THE HYDRAULIC ELEVATOR COMPANY

The following report from the committee on fire and water concerning the much talked of proposition of the Portland Hydraulic Elevator Company was read

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland. We your committee on fire and water to whom were referred an ordinance providing for the making of a contract with the Portland Hydraulic Elevator Company at $500 per month and also several communications and petitions relating thereto beg leave to report

That we have carefully considered said ordinance and the several communications and petitions aforesaid that we have heard the arguments of counsel in behalf of said Hydraulic Elevator Company and have seen a practical test of the efficiency of said proposed system and we feel certain that it would [illegible] of great utility and an excellent provision for the safety of buildings and property wherever it may be employed. But we regard it as inexpedient to require the city, as a whole to respond to a demand of this nature opposed as we find it to be very generally by citizens and taxpayers not directly benefited and furthermore we think the contract price expressed in the ordinance excessive, and therefore recommend that the ordinance do not pass

W H ANDRUS
ALFRED F SEARS Jr

After some discussion in which Andrus stated that he understood the company would have $500 per month or nothing the report was adopted

Councilman Sears suggested that there might be some modification of the price and wished to hear from F V Holman the attorney for the company who was present. The matter was then passed over with the understanding that it would be called up later in the evening but this was not done

CHARGES AGAINST POLICE CAPTAIN HAIR

The committee on health and police presented a report dismissing the charges against police captain Hair but cautioning the force against too great officiousness. It reads as follows and was adopted by the council

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland.—We, your committee on health and police to whom were referred charges preferred by one Harry Gurr against J T Hair, captain of police of this city beg leave to report. That on Wednesday evening, the 19th ult. your committee proceeded to investigate said charges there being present at such investigation said Gurr, the complainant and said Hair and several witnesses summoned by the respective parties that the testimony of all these witnesses was then taken and is herewith presented in connection with this report

Your committee would recommend as the result of their investigation that the charges against Captain Hair be dismissed, as there is nothing in the evidence which indicates any malicious or unworthy motive in his conduct at the same time we would caution both Captain Hair and the entire force of police that an excess of zeal in the discharge of their duties is not demanded or expected, and that too great officiousness on the part of the servants of the city has a tendency to bring into contempt the administration of justice

GERDES LIQUOR LICENSE

The next ordinance which came up for a reading was the amended liquor license law that Gerdes wants to pass for the benefit of the low beer halls and gin mills among which a majority of his constituents move and live and have their being. The clerk had but just begun the tedious task of wading through the immense amount of verbiage which the document contained when Councilman Scoggin rose in his seat and moved to adjourn until to morrow night remarking that it would take about seventeen hours to finish the reading of Gerdes ordinance

Upon putting the motion to a vote there was doubt concerning the result but Gerdes had voted no and his dishonor decided that the motion was lost. A division was called for and two or three other motions made at the same time. Chapman sat in his chair like a stranglehold-bottle and the council was almost hopelessly confused

Finally Sears gained the attention of his fellows and straightened them out by calling for the ayes and nays on the motion to adjourn which was then lost by a vote of 6 to 6

Honeyman then moved to postpone the further reading of Gerdes ordinance until the next meeting and that when the council adjourn it adjourn to meet again next week Wednesday night

Gerdes insisted that his ordinance be read now and declared that there was a great necessity for the public were clamoring for it

Honeyman replied, with some heat and much truth that the city already had one of the best of license laws, and what was needed was its enforcement. He thought the council would not be doing its duty if it did not distinctly instruct the police to arrest each and every person dealing in liquors who had not paid his or her license for the present quarter at the expiration of this five day allowed by law

The motion then received a second with the exception of postponing the further reading of the ordinance and so amended was carried

The clerk then went on with his reading for about five minutes longer when he was again interrupted by Honeyman moving to lay the ordinance on the table. The motion received a second and was carried.

CHAPMAN EXHIBITS HIS GALL

By this time there was a bit of excitement and a little excitement manifested in the proceedings by every one in the council chamber. There was a moment of hushed expectancy and then Honeyman broke the silence with a motion to suspend the regular order of business and take up that under the head of resolutions. His reason for the motion he said was because he had a certain resolution to introduce that evening

Gerdes was the only man who voted against this motion although one or two were silent. His dishonor saw that the situation was critical and he threw his gall into the breach

"The motion is lost" said he

"I ask for a division," said Honeyman

"I move to adjourn" said Scoggin in almost the same breath

Gerdes rose slowly and impressively to his feet "Mr President, said he "a motion to adjourn is always in order and it is not debatable. I second the motion"

The vote in voting were evenly divided

"The motion is carried and the council is adjourned" said Chapman grabbing his hat and starting for the door

Honeyman and Sears appealed from the decision of the chair, and the result was as follows

Sustaining Chapman's decision—Andrus, Gerdes, Haley and Scoggin

Opposed—Chittender, Honeyman Sears and Smith

"The chair is sustained" shouted Gerdes as accompanied by his followers he hurried out of the door and down the stairs

THE EAST SIDE.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT

Yesterday being the last day for the filing of remonstrances against the proposed improvement of L street, from Water street to Twelfth and owners representing a majority of the property proposed to be improved not having remonstrated, this important improvement is assured. It includes the rebuilding (at the new grade) of the elevated roadway between Water and Third streets and the bridge between Sixth and Eighth streets besides the improvement of the solid portions of the street. This is undoubtedly the most needed improvement in the city

ANOTHER PROSPECTIVE LAWSUIT

The council accepted the Fifth street elevated roadway Monday evening although it was stated that the contractor had consented to submit the matter for settlement to arbitrators—a confession on his part that it was not built according to contract. Property owners however cannot be compelled to pay without the contract and ordinance governing the matter are fulfilled and judging from the tone of their conversation concerning it the prospects of another lawsuit against the city are good

SAVAGE ASSAULT

Mr O Pomeroy formerly of Pomeroy & Jo[illegible] of East Portland was savagely attacked yesterday in the store of Burch Brothers at Albina by a former debtor to that firm. The firm had secured their pay by attaching the wages of the party in question and he meeting Mr Pomeroy yesterday took revenge in the manner stated. Bottles and other things were used in the attack and leaving his victim unconscious on the floor of the store the culprit escaped in a wagon that awaited him at the door. He will probably be arrested to-day

TO LONE FIR

The body of H C Johnson the brakeman who was killed on the road near Aurora Monday night was brought down by the Albany express yesterday and buried by friends at Lone Fir. It appears he was on the top of the cars while descending the steep grade at that place and after turning on a brake attempted to step to the next car but for some reason he fell in the attempt and fell between the cars which then passed over him. His legs and arms were fearfully mangled. He was an experienced railroad man and had formerly acted in the capacity of engineer. He was for some years employed on the west side road and afterward on the road of the O R & N Company. He had only just accepted an engagement as brakeman on the O & C road and his first trip on this road proved also his last. He hailed from Kansas City where his parents now reside and are reckoned among the prominent citizens his father recently having been a common council man. His father was telegraphed yesterday but no answer being received up to a late hour in the afternoon the remains were interred as stated. His companions speak of him as possessing excellent traits of character and deserving a better fate

THE SAME OLD STORY

"I didn't know it was loaded" accident occurred Tuesday evening to Mr Tillman Johnson residing on the corner of G and Eighth streets. Mr W H Hembree and Miss Maggie Manning were present with the family, and the former began to amuse himself with a small seven chamber revolver, which he found upon a shelf being assured by Mr Johnson that it was not loaded. Before, however, he had time to thoroughly test it Miss Manning relieved him of it and completed the examination with the usual result Mr Johnson receiving the ball in his breast just below the left nipple. The pistol being of small calibre the ball did not pierce the body to a dangerous distance, though causing considerable pain. Drs Davis Rafferty and Smith attended the victim

FIRST SPIKE CELEBRATION

A few minutes before noon yesterday three rousing cheers rent the air on the corner of L and Fifth streets, signaling the driving of the first spike in the track of the Park railway which starts at that point. Uncle Jimmy Stevens was fittingly accorded the honor of the driving and Joe Buchtel, one of the officers of the company rounded off the occasion with a neat and congratulatory speech. Thus the laying of the first street railway track in East Portland was given a fitting send off and it is to be hoped its completion will be as successful as its beginning was enthusiastic. Indications point to such a result the company having ordered all necessary material and engaged a force of men to build the road who are now constantly at work

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.

TRADE DOLLAR DEFEATS FOREST KING IN THE DASH.

Fine Exhibits of Horses, Cattle Sheep and Hogs—Good Attendance.

HILLSBORO, Wednesday Evening

The attendance at the fair is about 1200 to-day, and the grounds have some of the old time animation. The weather is all that could be desired and the track, drives and promenades are in that rare and fortunate condition neither muddy nor dusty. About the only features of interest besides the crowd are the stables on one side and the cattle stalls on the other. The pavilion is almost bare, but new entries are promised to morrow. Most of the booths, which form an irregular village in the middle of the grounds are occupied and the crowd lingers in greatest force about them. Gambling schemes tempt rustic innocence at every turn and shouters for them keep up a ceaseless volume of persuasive oratory. The monotonous chorus "Just come this way gentlemen" a brass band of three pieces braying at the door of a variety show and a fiddle and organ accompaniment in the dancing booth maintain a loud contest for supremacy, with varying success. But the whole monotonous din gives a holiday air to the scene and serves as an attraction to the rustic throng

THE LIVE STOCK

Exhibit is better than for several years. Four of the fancy families of horned stock are represented by fifty or more head of cattle all but one bull being owned in Washington county

D C Stewart exhibits a herd of nine thoroughbred Holsteins—the same exhibited last month at Salem. Mr S is the only breeder of thoroughbred Holsteins in the state and is justly proud of his stalls which attract much attention

Stewart also exhibits a fine herd of Ayrshires

J L Hallett exhibits four fine thoroughbred Jerseys including an imported bull

T L McEldowney exhibits four fine shorthorns

W N Dorscher of Portland exhibits a fine young shorthorn bull

Mr Corbett exhibits a Jersey bull

I A Imbrie exhibits two or three pens of good looking grade cattle

The exhibit of hogs is confined to a single breed Berkshire and is made by T H Tongue but it is probably the finest ever presented at any fair in the state. He has six or seven pens of splendid animals all the way from sucking pigs to their great great great grandfather who was imported by Mr Tongue at a cost of $100. Some of these are for sale

The exhibit of sheep is fine. James Withycombe has four pens of Cotswo ds including a fine imported buck

Cawrse Brothers exhibit some high grade Cotswolds

James Withycombe also exhibits a fine pen of Merino lambs some of which he has already sold to T H Tongue and D C Stewart

J Harrison exhibits some fine Angora goats.

The display of horses independent of turf stock is very good. J A Irvine exhibits a 3 year old grade Percheron a 2 year old grade draft

Wm Chalmers, Jr exhibits a 3 year old three-fourths Clydesdale stallion also a 2 year old filly, bred the same

T H Tongue exhibits an Autocrat mare, and her colt by Glen Dudley, and a fine grade colt by the same also a thoroughbred mare by Enquirer, with sucking colt by Glen Dudley also a 2 year old grade draft horse, also carriage team Badger Boy and sister

N B Mead exhibits a sucking colt, by Glen Dudley and a draft mare

James H. Sewell exhibits a half Percheron stallion, 5 years old

T W Bain exhibits a 2 year old half Percheron, a beauty

John Harrison exhibits a fine brood mare and a sucking colt

Cawrse Brothers exhibit a fine draft stallion, half Clyde 5 years old

A Tongue exhibits a 5 year old half Clyde stallion weighing 1800 pounds also a 2 year old Bruce colt

James Imbrie exhibits his celebrated stallion Robert Bruce

A large lot of horses are exhibited by J [illegible] M Kinney of Salem for sale

The turf list which includes nearly all the flyers of the state has already been given

THE RACES

Were the center of interest to-day. Entries for a seven eighths mile dash free for all for $100 and $50 were Forest King, Trade Dollar and Jim Merritt. Forest King was backed by the sporting brotherhood, and sold favorite in the pools. Trade Dollar second favorite and Merritt way down. They got a good start. Merritt in the lead Forest King close up to him and Trade Dollar a length in the rear. Trade Dollar steadily gained and passed the others near the half mile and came in an easy winner. Forest King, three lengths behind and Merritt close after him. The defeat of Forest King was a great disappointment to the sports who had backed him heavily

The trot for Washington county buggy horses to be driven by their owners made a great sport. J L Hallett, Wm Johnson, E S Perkins, John McKer[illegible] and Thomas Talbot made entries, Hallett coming out first and Johnson second

TO-MORROW'S RACES

The great event of the fair will be a three in five trot for stallions this afternoon. Dexter Milton, Medium Altamont and Mount Vernon will go ods, and providing other necessary appliances, has valuable experience and is worthy of your considerate attention, if he presents a proposition to renew the contract

A law of congress provides that all territories except Washington, shall have as a donation the United States prisons located within their respective domains upon their admission as states. In view of this remarkable exception against us I suggest that you petition congress to give us the prison at McNeil's island at the proper time, which if secured will afford an economical solution of the subject for the future

INSANE

Personal observation and a study of the reports satisfy me that the affairs of the hospital for the insane have been managed in an intelligent, humane and economical manner by the board of trustees, also that the medical and hygienic treatment have been eminently skillful and successful and the general supervision careful and thorough

The inmates, so many of them as are conscious of their true condition and are capable of appreciating kind attentions and good household accommodations, are as well satisfied as can be expected from persons of their unfortunate and unsettled condition of mind. Our system is simple and comparatively inexpensive but it is equal to the best in management and results

The following extracts from the reports of the board of trustees and the superintendent of the hospital will acquaint you with its business condition and include some of their recommendations for legislative action

ANNUAL SUMMARY FROM AUGUST 16, 1882 TO AUGUST 15 1883

No of patients in hospital Aug 15 1883	96	33	129

Total amount expenditures for the two years	$56 106 52
Amount received from pay patients and other sources	1 917 10
Net expense to the territory	54 189 42
Net cost to the territory per patient per week	4 89

Deduct from total expenditure, $57,106 52 the cost of repairs and improvements, $7389 18 and we have the actual current expenses, $49,717 24

The actual cost of maintenance per patient per week is $4 30 4-13 of a cent

The fact is self evident from the foregoing tables that the hospital feels the effect of the unprecedented immigration which is now pouring into the territory and which has as yet, barely commenced. Owing to this increase in the number of patients, the extreme age of the buildings constituting the hospital (necessitating constant repairs) the introduction of additional facilities for supplying water for the domestic use of the hospital and the protection of the same and its inmates against the danger of fire the necessity for the employment of additional assistance we find the appropriation insufficient to meet the current expenses, and the board has been sadly perplexed during the last quarter of the fiscal year to provide for these the people's wards. The deficiency amounts to nearly $1500, notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts to keep the expenditures under the amount appropriated for the maintenance of the institution and we are gratified to state that the daily average cost per patient is less than at our last biennial report

It is a deplorable fact that but a small portion of the large tract of land belonging to the hospital is susceptible of cultivation nearly all that can be successfully cultivated has been cleared and is in use but now the increasing population of the hospital demands a corresponding increase of acreage. Almost in sight of the main ward lies a body of land comprising about thirty acres which is now covered with water to a depth of from two to twelve feet. If this water could be drained off we would have a tract of excellent bottom land upon which could be raised all the hay oats and roots necessary for the use of the hospital and be the means of greatly reducing the current expenses. We ask for an appropriation and append herewith a plat showing the nature of the proposed improvement

In view of all these facts we earnestly and respectfully ask of your honorable body to make the following appropriations

For current expenses of each year and repairs	[illegible]1,000
For draining lake
For the construction of permanent hospital each year	2[illegible]000

Or so much of the above amounts as may be necessary

With the rapid increase of population the number of the insane will also increase. We can count on having at least one insane person to care for for every thousand of population, perhaps even a greater per cent than this. By fitting up the second story of the new male ward, the second story of the annex to the female ward, and the only other building available for making into a ward we will be able to accommodate thirty more patients. This will be our utmost limit without new buildings. From our present rate of increase the next two years will supply us with patients for all this increased room. It would seem then that there exists urgent necessity for the coming legislature to make increased and permanent provision for our insane. Our present hospital is composed of old and scattered and for the most part one-story buildings, five in number, the constant repair of which costs a large outlay of money, and is of no permanent value, and in fact they can scarcely be made secure enough to prevent the escape of restive patients and are expensive in administration. In view of these facts I would recommend that the legislature be urged to take the matter of a new substantial and permanent building in hand. It is a good time now to begin this work while the territory is out of debt and before becoming a state when other appropriations will be needed. When a new building is erected it should be of brick with a metallic roof, so as to be fire proof. All the brick necessary for building could be made with hospital help, employing such of the patients as are able and willing to assist and a brickmaker. Proper clay can be found near Steilacoom and the cost of making them this way would be small. On the score of economy both in building and in administration after being built it would be better to have a three-story building"

I recommend that the deficiency be paid and in view of our increased and constantly increasing population that the appropriation proposed by the board for current expenses each year of $35 000 be allowed. That sum may not be fully needed, but it is better to have an unexpended surplus than to provide for deficiencies, which establishes a precedent unwisely. Your committee will examine into the proposition to drain the lake and after personal inspection of the locality will report to you for proper action

It will be necessary to provide for fitting the apartments designated in the report of the superintendent to accommodate additional patients

Your most deliberate and best matured judgment will be fully exercised in determining the policy of laying the foundation for an extensive, permanent establishment for the insane of the territory as proposed by the board of trustees and the superintendent. That additional accommodations are necessary will be readily conceded

Without application to the present proposition, for it is not stated what the proposed extent or the ultimate cost of these structures shall be I have an aversion to huge buildings for public purposes not new born, but which is well understood in the state where I have at times hitherto conducted and canvassed the affairs of the people. Such enterprises always involve an unexpected original outlay and a corresponding subsequent expense in their management, thus giving rise, universally to dissatisfaction and opposition, in every department of the public service

The hospital is a charity. Its indigent inmates are supported by assessments upon the capital and labor of others, and their accommodations need not be in advance of the average of the people who humanely provide for their maintenance good medical treatment and safe keeping. But few of them are in such a mental condition as to be able to appreciate their surroundings, be they ever so grand as in many of the states

Our territory has vast extent, and it may be desirable to establish an asylum beyond the mountains for the convenience of patients and their friends as well as to reduce cost of transportation now very excessive

Whilst we have elements of unbounded undeveloped wealth our people have but little ready money, therefore if a new departure is to be established let it accord with our circumstances and be conducted with reference only to strictest necessity and the most rigid economy, and with a full understanding of all possibilities connected herewith at the present and in the future

My personal and professional record will absolve me from all imputation of deficiency in the possession of a proper liberality and sympathy for that most unfortunate class of our fellow creatures in whom an inscrutable providence has permitted the light of reason to be extinguished or impaired

EDUCATION

The superintendent of public instruction makes several important suggestions in his report to which I direct your attention with the recommendation that they receive your careful consideration as embodying improvements which may properly be engrafted upon our common school laws. Our system is simple effective inexpensive and gives general satisfaction

I give a summary of public school statistics for the year ending the 31st of August 188[illegible]

Eligible to instruction, between the ages of five and twenty one years	42 1[illegible]
Number of pupils enrolled	[illegible]
Number of school districts	[illegible]00
Number of school houses	700
Number of teachers employed	6[illegible]0
Number of graded schools	15
Average length of time of schools maintained in months	4½
Amount paid to teachers	$97 000 00
Amount paid for buildings	10 000 00
Amount paid for furniture and apparatus	10 000 00
Amount paid for school purposes	$117 000 00

The board of education have performed their duties assiduously and well

Good, intelligent citizenship, freedom from crime advanced standing of state, spring from a well constructed and well conducted system of public schools. I have pride in asserting that no county or maudering population, can truthfully claim a more advanced standing, or is better supplied with ordinary educational advantages than Washington. Within the last two years many extensive and expensive structures have been erected in every part of the territory, for public schools high schools classical and collegiate institutes and colleges variously denominated as such some with liberal endowments and all well assured of success. I advise liberal enactments in behalf of public schools as being promotive of good government and as antagonistic to crime and its concomitant evils and costs

The general government has generously conceded to us sections 16 and 36 of each township not otherwise appropriated at the time of the donation for public school purposes a gigantic and valuable inheritance. Extraordinary care must be exercised that it be used only for the public good which no individual claim or advantage shall be permitted to override. The organic law provides that in all cases where sections sixteen or thirty six or either or any of them are occupied by actual settlers prior to survey thereof the county commissioners of the county in which such sections so occupied are situated are authorized to locate other lands to an equal amount in sections, or fraction of sections as the case may be within their respective counties in lieu of sections so occupied. I recommend the passage of a law directing county commissioners to enter immediately upon the duty of making such selections in townships where the law is applicable. The best selections are being rapidly made by other interests. These sections are reserved for the purpose of being applied to common schools in the territory. The law does not provide that we shall inherit them as a state. That congress designed we should hold them without reference to a territorial condition or statehood can hardly be doubted yet the law is of uncertain construction and its application is debated and weakened. I advise that our delegate in congress be requested to have immediate ratification of the law as being equally applicable in either condition if he finds it necessary to take such action

UNIVERSITY

The board of regents of the territorial university render a satisfactory report of the operations of that institution. The faculty are men of large mental cultivation and experience. Students can obtain under their instruction a finished education in all its departments as in the foremost and oldest schools of high reputation

The board asks for an appropriation toward its support. Up to the last session of the legislature it was the invariable practice to give substantial aid. The university can be made a valuable adjunct to our system of common schools education by preparing teachers in the normal department, whilst the opportunities afforded for classical, scientific and commercial advancement should not be withheld from our people, who will be compelled to go beyond our borders to secure opportunities which might be obtained at home. The nucleus of a great university with all preliminary labor accomplished is in our possession certainly it would be unwise to permit so much effort to be sacrificed only to be repeated upon a new similar institution which our people will soon require. When admitted as a state we may secure new landed gifts from the government and thus in the future avoid the necessity of requiring legislative assistance. The gentleman who with rare liberality provided the grounds upon which the building is erected informed me giving authority for official use that the land belongs to the territory so long as it is used for university purposes, clearly and indisputably, and that the donation could not and would not be revoked. The property consists of ten acres of land in the most thickly settled and valuable part of the city of Seattle and is at this time of great value constantly to be increased. I have reason to believe that permission can be obtained to sell such portion of the grounds as are not essential to educational purposes and an endowment fund may thereby be established

I recommend that the appropriation sought be allowed and that inquiry be made of the gentleman upon the point to which I have made reference

Five thousand and fifty seven acres of university lands as donated by congress, have not yet been selected. This is a matter which is worthy of and should receive your especial notice and action

PILOTS

The report of the board of pilot commissioners for the Columbia river and bar shows a decided increase in the commerce of that great river. The pilots are uniformly successful in their hazardous occupation and have the confidence of masters and owners. There is no longer any conflict with the Oregon board of pilots, many of whom take branches from the Washington board. The laws of this territory and of the state of Oregon respecting the navigation of the Columbia especially as relating to the rates and general supervision of the pilot service should be harmonious and indeed might well be identical. A conference upon this important matter with Oregon authorities may lead to the adoption of such improved and uniform laws and regulations as would promote the convenience of mariners and inure to the advantage of commerce on both sides of the river. The abolition of the Puget sound system has not been injurious to commerce, which has been increased one hundred fold. If any new measure is enacted it will be well in view of the conspicuous and safe navigation of the straits and the sound and the large coastwise commerce, that it be based upon the optional feature of pilotage

COAL MINES

The inspector of coal mines reports that he has made twenty official visits during the first year of his appointment has inspected all of the mines in operation that in consequence of his suggestions and directions steady improvement has taken place in the manner of working them particularly in measures for the comfort and safety of the employes

LIBRARIAN

The librarian reports that the library is in a good condition and that there has been an accession of valuable law books thereto during the past two years. Thirty two dollars from the appropriation of $40 for lettering, shelving have been expended on fitting up a new library room

I recommend that the usual appropriation for contingent expenses be renewed

MILITIA

We have an abundant supply of military arms and accoutrements provided by the government for our use whilst we have no vital militia system. I recommend that you consider the subject and if found to be expedient adopt a law adapted to our requirements. We have many brave soldiers drilled by the hard discipline and experience of war, and many young men who desire the establishment of an effective military organization. Our country depends chiefly upon militia soldiers in all dangerous emergencies and it will be wise to provide for such contingencies in time of peace

NOTARY PUBLIC

The law providing for the appointment of notaries public is ambiguous in phraseology leading to doubt as to its proper construction. I advise that the term shall be appointed for the county in which he resides be construed into an extension of the functions of a notary public to the entire territory and that the supplemental action shall be retroactive and enabling as relating to former notarial transactions under the law as it stands

I advise that the sum to be paid into the treasury by a commissioner for a foreign state be advanced to the same amount as is required by law for the appointment of notary public in this territory

ROADS

Wagon roads are undergoing much improvement in every section, which is of inestimable advantage in the development of a new country. Good common roads enable the farmer to convey his own productions to market at such seasons as he may prefer, to take advantage of advanced prices and save freight charges, thus retaining all profit and affording steady use for his teams. They are promotive of good health by travel, and engender good neighborhood giving convenience for interchange of civilities no small consideration to isolated families in a new country

A wagon road is projected and partly built from Yakima City to Seattle, which I hope with all other similar important enterprises will receive your cordial encouragement and have suitable appropriations to aid in their construction

HERD LAW

Many portions of eastern Washington are passing rapidly from a nomadic pastoral condition into the more advanced state of agriculture and horticulture, by reason of the gradual disappearance of the bunch grass which is not reproduced when once exhausted the great increase in population and the more profitable practice of producing grains vegetables and fruits as compared with raising stock upon the same area of land. Common law principle provides that herdsmen shall confine their cattle so that no injury shall come to others by their trespass upon private domains. At an early period in the history of this government the principle was reversed for convenience sake when grain fields were scarce and cattle ranges limitless now that condition is becoming changed and in many of the states stringent laws are enforced, even to preventing the use of the public highway for pasturage and owners are compelled to keep domestic animals within their own enclosures and incidentally to fence against outside intrusion. This might operate without especial oppression where large herds do not exist, where enclosures are small, and where fencing material is cheap and can be readily obtained, but with us the case is different. Large bands of horses and cattle can demolish any fence, however strongly constructed, and the scarcity of lumber in the prairie regions is prohibitory of fencing by reason of great cost so that by ranging into a field of cultivated crops, the results of labor and expense for an entire season may be ruined in an hour bringing to the owner great inconvenience and loss of property which justice requires to be prevented. It is however impossible to make a restrictive law for universal, or even general observance on account of the extreme degree of difference which exist in the relative amount of cultivated and pastoral land in different localities. The evil may be partly overcome by submitting the question of herding to the local option of the counties or districts at an election when the electors may determine which policy is best adapted to their requirements and the preponderating interest be allowed to prevail. Representing different regions and being familiar with local conditions you will be qualified to decide the question for your constituents respectively. I trust to their satisfaction and profit. The subject is one of great importance at least prospectively and I ask for it the exercise of your patient and liberal judgment

TRANSMISSION OF LAWS

After new laws have passed through the legislature and received the signatures of the governor no method is provided for their official transmission to the office of the secretary of the territory for safe keeping

I recommend that it be made lawful for the governor to return new laws to the secretary or clerk of the house in which they originated and that it be the duty of such officers to forward them to the secretary to be deposited by him in the archives of the territory

TIME TO REPORT

I recommend earnestly that the various departments institutions and commissions created by territorial law shall report to the governor in ample time for him to consider their statements for proper representation to the legislature and that the time designated apply uniformly to each one of them

CODE

The code of Washington prepared by your predecessors with assiduous labor and high intelligence is printed making a volume of nine hundred and eighty pages including the constitution of the United States and the organic laws of the territory. It proves to be satisfactory to the people and the members of the bar and reflects great credit upon the indefatigable and capable gentlemen who effected the codification with so little drafting upon the treasury. A large number of copies await disposal by your action

TAXATION OF CHURCH PROPERTY

My attention has been called by many good citizens from all prevailing religious denominations to the taxation of church property which, when used exclusively for religious purposes might properly be exempted at least to a reasonable maximum amount. Many of our congregations are poor scarcely able to sustain church organizations and preachers. Churches inculcate morality obedience to law and oppose and discourage all evil thereby contributing to conserving the public welfare and diminishing the costs of government. They maintain the practice at [illegible] of school houses as relating to education, and might properly receive at your hands the same liberal and beneficent consideration. The sacrifice if any would be inconsiderable the advantage great

SUNDAY LAW

The several Sunday laws of the code since 1866 are well received and are as well observed as such enactments are elsewhere. The exceptions in section 1067 might properly be extended in some manifest directions, and more latitude might be allowed on seaboard and at other places where the daily arrival of people without homes or food necessitates purchases but the abandonment of the principle upon which these laws are based would be to retrograde from the right direction, which would be distasteful to and opposed by our communities who variously regard Sunday as a day of rest recreation or worship

INTEMPERANCE

Intemperance in the use of intoxicating liquors is engaging the attention of philanthropists political economists deluded votaries victims and all tax paying citizens as a question of the highest magnitude and importance

The fearful destruction of property and happiness which it occasions in its march of desolation disease and death its far reaching deteriorating consequences upon unborn generations the withdrawal from the industries of mankind of the wealth of labor which it neutralizes and absorbs the diversion into deadly channels of breadstuffs and the production of flesh food which it involves the vice degradation and crime which it engenders the cost in varied forms incident to the administration of justice to be paid from the labor of industrious and prosperous citizens all those with no redeeming or compensating influence for good may well cause it to be a subject of greatest solicitude to our race

The right of society to protection by suitable legislation from the effects of evils so manifest will not be denied. Indeed government is but a mutual compact for the preservation of person life and property. The citizen cedes certain natural rights with the assurance, and agreement that by giving of his means as taxes for its support and venturing if needs be his life for its defense he shall have all possible protection against danger and damage from any source

The right to abate an evil clearly argues a right to effect its prohibition

It will be your province as faithful guardians to protect by means however stringent the public purse to repress vice, to foster by all possible means the health happiness and prosperity of our people. Intemperance is not excessive in this territory. Some of our large counties have few or no facilities for free indulgence in intoxicating liquors and temperance is urged with quiet zeal and discretion

INDIANS

Thirteen thousand Indians occupy fifteen reservations which contain seven millions of acres of the best agricultural grazing, timber and mineral lands of the territory using them variously for hunting fishing farming and strolling besides the use of which they receive liberal assistance from the government in the guardianship of agents the benefit of physicians medicines hospitals schools and teachers with rations for food clothing and implements for forest and land

They cannot make proper use of these vast domains and do not appreciate their advantages whilst its possession and occupation are lost to a large body of Americans who by cultivation would make it highly productive. It would conduce greatly to the good of the people if the government would negotiate for the return of these valuable lands abolish tribal relations place Indians upon the same footing with other people in securing a share of the public lands making their landed possessions inalienable for a proper period abolish the present Indian system with its complications and cost remanding all Indians to the operation of the laws by which other people are governed

The process will create no shock if properly administered but will on the contrary be easy of operation and ultimately inure to the good of the Indians by compelling them to labor for a living. Their wants are few and simple they are astute and crafty in affairs and can fully take care of themselves and as is demonstrated in numerous instances, will glide readily from their present semi barbarous state into a condition of civilization and usefulness

Immigration is pouring in upon us and these lands are needed now for intelligent husbandry. The present plan requires the expenditure of much money cultivates a lazy vagabond life incompatible to people who do not witness their manner of living which is utterly inconsistent with American habits, and delays the rescue of the Indians from the abominations of his savage state. The public sentiment of the people of this territory is unanimously in favor of the change as proposed

LIFE SAVING

Our commerce world wide and coast wide now extensive and greatly to be increased demands liberal appropriations from the general government for all means and appliances which will tend to increase the area of navigation and to diminish its perils

Many of our rivers are obstructed by tree and log jams the removal of which would extend their usefulness and value many fold

Notwithstanding much improvement is claimed in its operations and conceded, the first triumph was the greatest when 301 passengers and crew the entire list, were landed upon Absecom beach New Jersey from the Scottish bark Ayrshire during a blinding snow storm in the night time on Christmas 1850. Twenty thousand human lives and twenty millions of dollars worth of property have been saved by its instrumentality. One hundred and eighty nine stations now supply the ocean and lake shores of the United States

No government nor board of underwriters nor vessel owners nor rescued passengers nor masters nor mariners have ever recognized my agency in originating and establishing the institution and there remains [illegible] on record in the [illegible] manner my sole agency in establishing a system which I denominate "The American system of saving life and property from shipwreck"

BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION

A territorial bureau of immigration is a chief necessity to increase our population, and to provide those persons who seek a residence here with information [illegible] to their inclinations and requirements. Many people come here with but little money for continued travel. It is not right to [illegible] their [illegible] and allow them to spend their small possessions in searching for a settlement

In many new countries it is but little consequence where the pioneer may land for a great [illegible] largely prevades the whole. Here the reverse is [illegible] and no man who can [illegible] time and expenditure of money [illegible] importance of selecting a place of residence

A bureau should be organized upon an economical basis extending in operation east and west of the [illegible] to obtain alike, with sufficient means for the distribution of papers a burden which falls heavily upon a few persons who should not be expected to contribute extensively in such a direction

Erminio Giont? lies in jail at Vancouver under sentence of death for murder in the first degree committed by him in the county of Skamania. At the urgent solicitation of citizens of the territory who allege that he is unsound of mind I have with the approbation of the judge who tried the case postponed the execution for a brief period. The Swiss consul at San Francisco and the Swiss government through the government of the United States have manifested deep concern in his behalf for the same cause and for other reasons. He was defended by an attorney appointed by the court at the very time of trial and the plea of insanity was not offered. If it be the will of the legislative assembly to provide for the appointment of a medical commission to examine into the mental condition at the time of the murder an opportunity is offered for that purpose. I am reluctant to have a capital execution take place in a case where the sanity and responsibility of the convict are shrouded in doubt

CAPITOL.

The appropriation placed in my hands for repairs to the capitol has been expended in repairing gates and fences, tinning glazing and stopping leaks in the cupola taking down the gutters from the main building shingling several courses of the roof boxing and moulding the eaves and painting the wood house and the main building. The dried porous and dingy condition of the surfaces made many coats necessary. The best of Atlantic lead and Salem oil were freely used so that painting will not be required for years to come. The fences require to be repaired and painted

The territorial national flag is worn into shreds and is unfit for use. A new one is needed for the flag staff to be raised upon patriotic and other proper public occasions. A small appropriation should be made for a janitor to take care of the buildings and grounds

STATE

The application of Washington territory for admission into the federal Union as a state is attracting the attention of the country. Our ability to sustain a state government and our claim to admission based upon resources and population—which are the only reasonable requirements—are conceded. Our people are quite unanimously in favor of the measure desiring to be possessed of the rights and privileges exercised by other American citizens in the election of president vice president, as well as representatives in both branches of congress so that our welfare may be maintained, not only in debate but by votes and also to choose our own officers of state. We are now discounted of proper importance by being made tributary to adjoining states, and dependent upon them for executive and legislative [illegible]. If there be any doubt as to the population required to entitle us to a member of congress a new census would solve the question

As a state we all hope to obtain absolute possession of the two sections of public lands in each township set apart for public schools, thus saving much taxation in that direction and if congress bestow the usual donations five per cent of the sales of public lands within our limits five hundred thousand acres of the public domain ten sections for state buildings and swamp and tide lands and salt springs

The people of the territory have already adopted a state constitution preparatory to admission which instrument is generally regarded as being too voluminous and cumbersome containing many provisions which might properly be embodied in statutory enactments and others not adapted to our present and advanced requirements. The propriety of providing for a new and unobjectionable organic instrument is submitted to your consideration with an earnest recommendation in deference to our full information as to the wish of the people upon that subject. A convention would involve great expense which might be avoided at the same time by securing admission as a state contingent upon the acceptance of a constitution satisfactory to our people and the president of the United States, of congress if in session

NORTHERN PACIFIC

The completion of the Northern Pacific railroad from Lake Superior to Puget sound is an event of immeasurable importance to the entire Pacific coast country north and especially so to the territory of Washington

It is the realization of hopes long delayed by insurmountable obstacles which now find full fruition in the connection by a new and direct channel of the Pacific with the Atlantic oceans. It thus affords easy and convenient access to states and to [illegible] almost inaccessible

To Washington it brings assurance of early greatness by placing us in the very vanguard of commercial importance on the newly opened highway of nations, including us in its circuit around the globe and making our great waters the necessary counterparts of the seas of China and Japan the North sea of Europe, and the bays of Boston and New York

Forty five millions of acres of timber, agricultural pasture and mountain lands mines of precious metals quarries of lime stone marble granite slate and sand stone and beds of [illegible] coal and iron lakes rivers and majestic cascades affording thousands of miles of inland waters alive with a hundred varieties of fish some of them of great value water powers in a climate of even temperature and healthful [illegible] scenery, water and mountains, facilities for manufacturing the staples from our own material wood iron wool and hides maritime opportunities unsurpassed for internal coast wise and foreign commerce in a line to absorb the trade of Alaska in its furs, seal and gold to obtain the largest share from Asia in coffee teas opium porcelain, silks and very all of these are our resources and advantages which will straightway place Washington territory in the fore front along with the most prosperous countries on the globe

We hope for an early completion of the Cascade division which will give us a more direct connection with the states and enable the citizens of this territory to effect a more convenient exchange of our many commodities with each other east and west of the mountains and also facilitate and promote that personal and friendly acquaintance and intercourse which are so indispensable to good fellowship and to prevent estrangement amongst our people who have a community and at the same time a contrariety of interests

CONCLUSION

I have thus gentlemen endeavored to present to you a statement of the condition of the territory relating to you as legislators and made such recommendations as the public good appears to demand from me. I have much confidence in the patriotic purposes of the representatives of the people and do not hesitate to believe that, inspired by a common impulse we shall cordially co-operate in our endeavors to promote the general welfare

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY Oct 3

The damaged portion of the Bryant's cargo was being examined to day and damage is slight. Probably 900 mats rice and a small quantity of other goods are damaged. On the rice the loss runs from a total loss to 80 per cent damage. The loss is much smaller than had been expected

A train laden with [illegible] corn to Oliphant & Co from Portland M[illegible] was due here at 10 10 A M but up to a late hour this afternoon had not been reported. The delay is thought to be beyond Wallula junction. The bulk of the shipment has already been disposed of to our wholesale houses

General trade to day has been good and shipments into the interior are large

FREIGHTS—The British ship Lake, 1184 tons, and the British iron bark Afton 818 tons have arrived. Both reported chartered prior to arrival and both are expected to load wheat. The latter comes to Sibson Church & Co and the former to Meyer Wilson & Co. There is nothing doing in spot freights either here or at San Francisco and rates are nominal. The rates secured by the Reaper and Cheeseborough remain in dispute as far as outside reports go. An American shipmaster said to day that the rate was positively £3 3d U K Havre or Antwerp. A promise of a better foreign grain trade gives owners new hope

WHEAT—For valley millers are reported as paying above $1 57½ here and the report of all buying by shippers gives credence to the report. In consequence valley receipts are extremely small. At Walla Walla and other eastern points a good business is expected at what would be a shade better than $1 [illegible]. Shippers are securing largely and have their needs pretty well provided against. Of recent arrivals cargoes are in hand for all but one. The English market to day presents an improved tone but values show no change. Large deliveries from farmers and heavy imports operate against values

FLOUR—An advance of 25 cents per barrel all around is reported to day. This is due to high cost of wheat and to the fact that as much flour can be sold at the advance as at the old rate. Quote standard brands $5 less usual trade discount

OATS—Market remains firm at 55@57½c for good to choice feed. Receipts are not large

MILLSTUFF—Market rather better supplied but values are firm

HOPS—Receipts increasing and 90 000 lbs are to go forward by next steamer. It is claimed that this market is a better than San Francisco and as the bulk goes east there is no good reason why it should not be. To ship to California and then east means additional expense and growers should first try their nearest market before shipping. Offers of 18c are out here for choice

WOOL—A light trade is doing at 17@18½c for choice

DRIED FRUIT—New plums were received yesterday from Linn county and apples are expected to morrow. California continues to send freely. Values show no change

BUTTER—Choice roll quoted at [illegible] packed 15c @20c. Stocks light

EGGS—Receipts about equal the demand and [illegible]c is easily had

POULTRY—Chickens sell at $4@4 50 for young and $5@6 for old. Turkeys in small demand as yet but 18@20c is had

The new bark St. James 1000 tons has arrived at New York from the yards

The Tam O Shanter and Martha Fisher will be up to morrow

The Br bark Afton in ballast from Brisbane to Sibson Church & Co arrived to day

The C D Bryant was hove down on the ways at the east side to day. Her keel was exposed the entire length showing that about thirty feet of it had started from the wood ends. A steam pump will be placed on her to morrow morning in order to keep the water down. While lying on her side to day considerable water poured in through her air seams and a steam pump will be necessary to keep her clear. She will be righted her port side calked and again hove down to day's work having shown extent of damage. A week will be required for work on each side. Her condition proves that she is of superior build and strength

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

Murder or Suicide—Which?

EASTON, Me, Oct 2.—The auditors in the celebrated case of the Dexter Savings Bank vs. The Estate of the late J Wilson Barron the former cashier of the bank made a report to the supreme court to day. (Barron one morning in [illegible] was found in the vault of the bank shot dead. The officers of the bank claimed that he committed suicide to cover up speculations. His friends and quite a portion of the community believed he had been murdered by robbers.) The auditors report states that the balance due from Barron's estate to the bank is $5011 including interest and concludes as follows: "We do not feel to be in a condition for any opinion upon the question of the murder or suicide of Barron because we are satisfied from the evidence that there was substantially no money in the bank at the time of Barron's death and whether Barron came to his death by murder or otherwise the amount of money in his possession at the bank at the time was so inconsiderable as not to materially affect the situation of the parties litigant or change the result of our conclusions." If the report of the auditors does not settle the case either party has the right to ask for a jury trial

Tough and Dry Meats Made Tender.

T. B. Hosmer of Faneuil Hall Market, Boston, says: "I kept dry old ewe mutton which had been treated with this preparation in my stall for two months. Then I and others ate of it and it was as sweet and tender as any mutton could be."

No Taste of it can be Detected in Food.

It has withstood the most searching tests in this respect. Dishes of treated and untreated meats, fish, oysters, milk and cream have been placed side by side at a very large table in Boston, New Haven and Chicago, and no one could tell which was preserved and which was fresh.
